Railroad Official Hears Local Plea For High Trestle

About 20 citizens and city officials met Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the city hall to present objection to the lowering of the Florida East Coast Railway trestle over the Hillsborough canal to L. C. Frohman, chief engineer for the railroad.

The local cause was delivered with pathos and some of the best speech making and drama seen locally with the bended knee approach thrown in after the original force failed to dent the veneer of Frohman's disposition.

Frohman, speaking in calm, matter-of-fact bass tones, told the group the span had to be replaced. The agreement among the FEC, the state and county stipulates that when a permanent structure replaced the present one, it was to be lowered, not raised.

"That project is on the book for execution for this year. There being any objections didn't occur to us," he said.

"I don't see how," he continued, "we can rebuild the structure and maintain an underpass there and continue the practical operation of the railroad."

Frohman said the cost of building a proper underpass, raising the level six feet to the required 14 feet from the road, would be $350,000.. Lowering the trestle would cost $60,000. This price more or less included flashing signals and traffic gates. Traffic signals cost $7,000 to $17,000, depending on the tracks and gates used and $700 annually to maintain. Neither state nor federal funds are made available for the crossing construction.

That cost is less than the interest on the cost of raising the trestle.

Objection

After Frohman's initial remarks parties rose to voice their objection.

Mrs. Mary Wall mentioned the danger to children crossing the tracks.

"Your main objective seems to be money," she told Frohman. "Our main objection is children."

Frohman countered, "It's not a question of money, it's an operation of trains."

Other questions from the crowd and answers by Frohman were:

Could the trestle be raised and eliminate 95% of the accidents? "Yes."

Would traffic be stopped by trains switching or standing on the crossings? "No."

Why had signals never been placed at the Airport Road? "The railroad has never received such a request."

Could the city get an injunc-

Thrill-A-Minute Club Formed At Lake Park

The formation of a local chapter of the Thrill-A-Minute Club has been announced by Hub Spooner, sales manager at Lake Buick Co.

The timing is quite appropriate, Spooner said, because spring is a particularly good time to appreciate the thrill you get from driving the 1956 Buick.

All models this year have a 322-cubic-inch engine and the new, improved variable pitch Dynaflow which increases the torque multiplication, boosts performance further. Horsepower has been increased to 220 in the Special and to 255 in the other models. In all, engineers and stylists have made more than 90 major improvements in the 1956 Buick.

These improvements are the basis of the Thrill-A-Minue Club, Spooner said, and he has issued an invitation to everyone who enjoys the thrill of driving a powerful car to come in and join the club by making a test run.

'Show Boat Capers' Due Here Mar. 8-9

C. W. McDonald, president of the Lions Club of Belle Glade, has announced that this year's program, "Show Boat Capers," will be a more elaborate production than any previously staged.

The show went into rehearsals Thursday evening of this week.

In order to assure theatre goers of this area an outstanding show, professionally designed and produced, the Lions board of directors has secured the services of Theatrical Associates Production Service, Inc., of Miami Springs.

The organization provides costumes, special scenery, and a special director, Russell L. Rowland. Under his direction this show has been successfully staged by other clubs and lodges throughout the state.

"Show Boat Capers" is scheduled to be presented at the Belle Glade High School auditorium Mar. 8-9 at 8:15. The revue and

WESTERN ELECTRIC INSTALLER, (right), E. E. Roundtree, pauses to look at the cameraman as he spot checks out the operation of the newly installed switching frame which will handle the new WY-6 exchange circuits at the Southern Bell Telephone Company plant here. WYman 6 Exchange Starts Sunday For All Belle Glade Telephones

Belle Glade and vicinity is growing up and taking a step forward to the day when telephone callers can place their own long distance calls by dialing without the aid of the long distance operator in most cases.

First step in the modern move is the adoption of a telephone exchange code which in this instance is the much-publicized WYman 6. The new system goes into effect this coming Sunday, March 4, at 2 a.m., according to district manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph, B. F. Reddy.

New telephone directories have been mailed to subscribers which are not to be used until that time, Reddy said.

The 2-5 numbering plan is simple. Simply dial the first two letters of the word Wyman (WY) and the number 6 before dialing the desired telephone number. If there is any question, complete dialing instructions will be found in each directory.

One other change comes about due to the new exchange switching. When dialing Pahokee, subscribers must dial "4" not "8" before dialing the desired number. Pahokee users will still dial "8" when placing Belle Glade calls, but must remember to dial WY-6 also.

In explaining the new switching panel M. E. Ludlow, plant manager, said the electronic panel records the number when dialed, selects the proper line and connects the conversation. After the conversation the panel trips the connection to neutral for another selection.

The latest in developments of the local telephone plant has come a long way from the 30 odd telephones scattered thruout the Glades in 1930.

In 1931 when the first exchange was started here 104 telephones were in use. The plant was enlarged in 1949 to handle 1,670 telephones. Belle Glade had 986 and Pahokee had 684. At present there are nearly 2,200 telephones in use with facilities soon for 2,800 in Belle Glade only.

Glades Directory Will Foster Police Radio

The South Bay Police, under the leadership of Chief Ira Marvin Davis, have started a drive to obtain new police radio and other police equipment, without reaching into the city treasury for funds.

One of the first projects will be a Yearbook-Directory that will contain much valuable information about the Glades area and will be ready for local distribution late in March.

Seaboard Promotes Former Agent Here

George S. Woodward has been promoted to division freight agent for the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, according to an announcement by C. J. Mundee, assistant freight traffic manager for the line.

Woodward's headquarters will remain in West Palm Beach, but his territory has been enlarged to include the Lake Okeechobee area, the announcement states.

Born in St. Augustine, Woodward first became connected with the Seaboard in 1925 as chief clerk in the line's freight traffic department at Jacksonville. In 1928 he was appointed traveling freight agent at Tallahassee and in November of that year was promoted to the post of commercial agent at West Palm Beach.

He has been stationed in West Palm Beach since that time, except for the period from 1931 to 1936 when his headquarters were at Belle Glade. Upon his return to West Palm Beach in 1936 he was made district freight agent, the position he held just prior to his latest promotion.

H. O. Carlton is general freight agent here under the supervision of Woodward.

South Bay Midgets Drop Cage Battle

Belle Glade's first midget basketball tournament came to a successful conclusion here Friday night with the Green Gremlins winning the championship by virtue of a hard-fought victory over the Hurricanes of South Bay 38-32.

The Gremlins, coached by Arthur Combs of the elementary school, came by the championship the hard way. They knocked off a strong team from Canal Point on Thursday, 42-28.

They barely eked out a one point win over Coach Calvin Peacock's Red Raiders, also of Belle Glade, 18-17. The Gremlins' win over South Bay was doubly sweet to the local boys because they had been unable to upset the Hurricanes, coached by Pellon Morris, during the regular season.

The Hurricanes made their way to the finals with a forfeiture from Pahokee's red team and a win over the Pahokee blue team 19-16.

In the consolation game the Red Raiders won over the Pahokee blue team 33-32.

After the final game a handsome trophy, donated by Lake Buick Company, was presented to the winning team by R. E.

Seacrest Captures Tourney Crown As Rams Lose 53-36

By JACK McCASKILL

The 1956 basketball season came to a screeching halt for the Golden Rams at North Miami High gym when they ran afoul of the all-conquering Seacrest Hawks. The Hawks won 53-36.

Friday night's defeat at the hands of the Hawks eliminated the Rams in the semi-finals and sent the Seacrest team into the final against Pompano where the Hawks won 67-54.

Belle Glade had beaten South Dade on Thursday 52-48, but found themselves helpless before the attack of Moody and Company.

The Rams gave a creditable account of themselves in the tournament; however, and Junior Kenny Norris, pivot man for Belle Glade, landed a berth on the all-tournament five against some stiff competition.

Other boys on the all stars were Seacrest's Moody, Vande-Mar and Cole, Mike Rocker and Bill Zinke of Pompano, Mike Norigenna of North Miami, Art Signore and Fran Curci of Archbishop Curley and Bill Bondurant of Central Catholic.

All in all it has been a satisfactory season for the Rams who have enjoyed a better than .500 record. The squad showed steady improvement and gave the fans some exciting evenings.

They lose some good boys by graduation, but Norris is re-

South Bay Council Reverses Triangle Structure Statute

The South Bay Council voted Monday night to repeal an ordinance passed at their Feb. 13 session prohibiting structures to be built on the triangular parcel of land lying beweten SR 80, U. S. 27 and NE 2d St. and Palm Beach Road.

The ordinance was repealed on the advice of City Attorney Claude Jones. The council had previously denied a building permit to erect a building on within the triangle. The rest the Walker-Bowen property of the triangle is state property.

The denial was made in the light of information from the State Road Department saying that no improvements to SR 80 or U. S. 27 would be made if structures were built on the triangle.

The council left no indication of whether or not the Walker-Bowen permit would be approved at a forthcoming meeting. No statement has been released by the SRD concerning the city's action.

In other action Monday night the council voted to start condemnation procedures on two properties where no modern bath facilities exist. The prop-

New Street Lights Mark Milestone In City's Progress

Dedication of the new mercury-vapor street lights for Belle Glade will take place this evening at 7:30 at the corner of Ave. A and Main St.

This announcement was made by R. W. Lanier, president of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce here.

Lanier will be master of ceremonies for the event. Mayor Walter Ashley is expected to deliver a short address.

No street lighting of any kind will be on until the hour of dedication, he stated.

Local dignitaries as well as county officials and neighboring city officials will participate in the service. Belle Glade's first mayor, Walter Greer (1928-1931) was slated to turn the switch which will light the city; however, his illness will prevent his doing it. The city's second mayor, George Tedder (1931-1934) will turn on the lights instead.

Manager C. A. Chase of the Florida Power and Light Co., said the 31 new poles replaced the old 17 now in operation. The city's first lights were installed in August of 1937.

The new lights, Chase said, would provide nearly 14 times more light. Each new light gives off 20,000 lumens per lamp. This is eight times more light per pole.

Lanier said the Belle Glade High School band would offer a short concert.

"These new lights mark another milestone in the progress of the city of Belle Glade," Lanier said, "and it is hoped that all citizenry will come down this evening to welcome the new lighting system."

The present light system is in sharp contrast to the days of darkness in the city. Belle Glade was incorporated in 1928 as a town and made a city in 1945. The town had been without street lights nine years before the first ones were installed.

Homestead Labor Problems Similar To Belle Glade's Committee Finds

The citizens' migrant committee appointed by Governor Collins and headed by Emmett S. Roberts held its second hearing of the series in Homestead Feb. 21.

The committee's one day hearing on labor problems among agricultural migrants in this state has resulted in a request to the governor asking that he appeal to federal authorities for a program which will encourage farmers to build needed housing facilities.

The group recommended that the state's chief executive seek a program whereby farmers will be enabled to write-off cost of migratory labor housing projects in five years or less and to ask for amendments to Federal Housing Authority regulations which would release federal loans to help in the costs of the program.

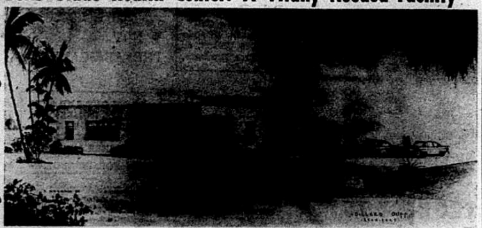

In Homestead, as in Belle Glade, the committee found housing as the apparent number one problem to be solved.

Vice Chairman Luther Chandler, south Florida grower and business executive, indicated that he felt the governor should go directly to the nation's capital and call a conference with the national delegation.

Another recommendation was that Governor Collins ask FHA

Belle Glade Health Center: A Vitally Needed Facility

THE ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the new $28,000 health center being built here by B. A. Roemer Construction Co. at 1024 NW Ave. D. Dillard Duff is architect. The foundation and floor joists have been laid. Pouring of the floor was expected to be completed this week and the walls started immediately. The building is expected to be finished by late June. The CBS structure will be a one story 52 by 40 unit.

"Just as soon as we can occupy it, we will furnish it immediately," Dr. C. L. Brumback, Director of the Palm Beach County Health Department, told The Herald when he was asked how soon the Belle Glade Medical Center would be ready.

Workmen hope to complete the building in late June or early in July.

"We may move in before the paint is dry," the doctor added.

The new building is to be the headquarters for the county health department in the Belle Glade area. The regular staff will include the present three nurses assigned to this area.

In addition, Dr. Brumback said, the regular staff will include a clerk, sanitarian and the staff from the West Palm Beach office, which includes the medical staff to examine patients. Plans also call for a sanitary engineer, a superintendent and director of nurses and a veterinarian.

The facilities will also be used by other county and state officials as well as the local physicians who will be in charge of clinics.

The clinics main purpose will be the control of communicable and infectious diseases such as TB and polio. In addition there will be maternal and child health services as well as prenatal care.

There will be services for infants and children including those of school age who aren't able to go to a private physician. Also the center will be a meeting place for conferences and organizational clinics.

"It's not primarily for treatment," Dr. Brumback said. "It's for preventive work to prevent the spreading of diseases. The function of the clinic will not be that of the county physician."

Dr. Brumback explained that only a service charge will be made for such things as birth and death certificates and health cards. The rest is free. He concluded his remarks to The Herald by saying, "We really need this facility."

Glades Jewish Community Center

Sunday night marked the celebration of the Holiday of Purim. A short reading of the Megillah (Story of Esther) was read by the president, Jonas Lehrer. The children participated in the reading by blotting out the name of Raman the tyrant) with noise makers.

A skit entitled, "Judgment Day," was presented by the older members of the Sunday School class. It depicted the Jewish Holidays resenting Purim as being classed with them to be remembered throughout generations. Each participant was dressed in a costume representing the particular holiday they represented. Margie Kahn and Iris Blum were the two judges; Chanukah was played by Stevie Kaufman; Passover by Linda Rabin; Farrell Kaufman and Marilyn Rabin portrayed Shevous and Succous in order. Purim was acted out by Sally Mason. The announcer was Richard Mason.

After Chip Kaufman, Harvey Pearlman, George Magrill, Michelle Lee, and Sally finished their recitals of Purim poems the party was ended with everyone partaking in the eating of the Humantaschen. There were over 35 people attending and a good time was had by all.

Church Of God Has Large Attendance

Of course we are talking about our Sunday School. We enjoyed one of the greatest Sundays we have had at the Church of God. There was a cake given away which was won by Bro. Alton Teele from South Bay. He was responsible for 24 persons attending.

We have gone over our 100 average for this month and hoping and praying it will continue.

We also want to thank each and everyone who attended Sunday. You will never know how much you were appreciated. We invite you to come every Sunday.

We are also having a chicken supper Saturday evening. We will start serving at 5 p.m. We will deliver to your door or where you work. Donations will be $1.25.

Time Magazine Runs Letter From Fr. Petrie

Christian Paper Features Watson Man On The Beam

Tom Watson, former president of radio station WSWN in Belle Glade, is featured in the Feb. 26 issue of Power, an inter-denominational Sunday School paper, published in Chicago, as the man on the beam.

The article describes Watson's advancement from student announcer at the University of Florida radio station to scriptwriter for a network program, gram, co-founder of the Belle Glade station, and recently, to radio missionary in Korea.

Watson is one of the directors of a 20,000 watt radio station now under construction at Inchon, Korea, approved by President Syngman Rhee and sponsored by the Evangelical Alliance Mission of Chicago. The entire program schedule will be devoted to counteracting Communist radio propaganda and preaching the gospel to listeners behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Tom Watson's story reads like exciting Christian fiction. Just six years ago he was a leading businessman, socialite, and church officer in the city of Belle Glade. Then through the power of the Gospel, he discovered he was a lost sinner in God's sight, and he received Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour. Since then God has blessed his life in more ways Tom could never have dreamed of, and now he's a radio missionary to the Orient.

In 1951, Watson sold his interest in WSWN after being accepted by the Mission for foreign service. He and his family were commissioned to Japan, resumed work in his specialty, radio.

He returned to the United States in 1954 to enlist funds for the Korean station, and was home when his father, J. Tom, Sr., the Republican gubernatorial candidate, suffered a fatal stroke. Before his death, the long-time politician praised his son's new venture.

According to the latest report from Mission headquarters, 80 per cent of the $100,000 needed to pay for the station's construction has been contributed by individuals and churches, and the broadcasts in several languages are expected to begin in June. Watson will broadcast from Inchon on the 20,000-watt long wave signal into Red China, Manchuria, North Korea and Siberia. He says: "May the Lord give us all, not admirers but intercessors during these critical days in the world-wide program of getting out the gospel to every kindred, tribe and tongue!

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is the following (203:13): "Spiritual perception brings out the possibilities of being, destroys reliance on aught but God, and so makes man the image of his Maker in deed and in truth."

Thoughts

Our thoughts are often a truer measure of ourselves than our actions. An impulse will sometimes show more of real character than what is done after deliberation. — (Sunshine Mag.)

Read Romans 10:15-15.

Like cold water to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country. (Proverbs 25:25. RSV.)

Our family once made a trip through the states from the Great Lakes to the Pacific. On the return journey we came to a gold-mining region.

Along a small stream by the road was a sign—"Pan Your Own Gold." Stopping, we secured a "pan," and the manager's instructions. We panned gold.

After a period of washing mud from the rocks and shaking the pan according to instructions, the manager came by and said, "Now let me finish." Carefully, he shook the pan. Soon he looked up and said, "I have news for you."

I will always remember the thrill of that news. I could hardly wait. "There it is," he said, carefully collecting a few flakes of gold. How happy I was to get that gold! I still have it.

Thrilling as that news was to me, there is other news—news most important to everyone. It is the good news that Jesus Christ is the Saviour of men. This best of all news, the good news of salvation, can be received by people all over the world. Have we accepted Christ as our personal Saviour?

PRAYER

Our Father in heaven, we give Thee praise for Jesus Christ and for the good news that comes from Thee through Him. Help us to be diligent in spreading the gospel so that others will know the joy of Thy salvation. In Christ's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The best news is the good news of Jesus Christ.

According to Davy Crockett's autobiography his father fought at Kings Mountain which is right on the North Carolina and South Carolina line. The battlefield is a national military monument and adjoining it is Kings Mountain State Park. Davy was with General Jackson at Pensacola and relates that they swam their horses across the "Scamby" and sent two companies down on the side of the bay opposite Pensacola. This place Davy's exploits on or near Santa Rosa Island at the western end of which is now Fort Pickens State Park.

A "Quickie" Sherbet

By BETTY BARCLAY

Here's a perfectly delicious dessert made in minutes and so economical it will amaze you. Just one gay little package of raspberry flavored soft drink powder, together with milk and sugar, makes plenty of sherbet for four or five servings. And don't overlook the economy of your time since this sherbet is made in a jiffy. Served in pretty dishes plus a posy for that extra touch, it becomes a conversation piece. Be sure to add this wonderful recipe to your "special pets" since you'll want to make it again and again.

Raspberry Sherbet

1 package Raspberry Kool-Aid
1 cup sugar
3 cups milk

Dissolve Kool-Aid and sugar in milk. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator and set control for coldest freezing temperature. When mixture is partially firm, spoon into cold bowl and beat with egg beater until smooth but not melted. Return to tray and freeze until firm. Freezing time: about 2 hours. Makes about ¾ quart.

It's The Law

YOUR FAMILY LAWYER

About this time of year in Florida, a number of young men get the word that they have passed their bar examination, which lasted a period of three full days. The new lawyer's first client — and he is always precious in the new lawyer's eyes — usually knows only that he gets and pays for "advice." But, as a rule, what study, work and time the young lawyer puts into becoming a member of the Bar is not known.

First, most lawyers have spent six or seven years in college. As a rule, in Florida, this means two to four years of college and three years in a law school.

During three years of law school, the student studies literally thousands of separate cases, statutes, and monograph to learn legal principles, reasoning and court procedures to serve you.

You have a right to expect your lawyer to serve you promptly, well, and at fair cost. You expect efficiency and sound judgment.

When you present your lawyer who is usually your family lawyer, with a problem, he must find out the relevant facts and how they can be proved. He must then draw upon his memory and experience to determine which principles of law govern, for no two problems, which his clients raise, are quite the same.

After searching his memory, your lowyer ordinarly checks his books. He finds the law in an increasing number of statutes, in the court's decisions of other cases similar to yours, and in the actions of government boards and bureaus.

So you can see what is necessary before a lawyer can even give good "advice." And probably the most important single item to you is that your lawyer has also passed a very rigid character examination before he is even permitted to become a member of the Bar, so that only those morally fit may be of service to the public

PROBATION

Like the eraser on your pencil, the law, too, allows for human error.

Johnny was a high spirited 18 year old. He flunked his first high school exam and quit school From then on he worked at odd jbos. He had a clean record.

Then one night, with two casual acquaintances, he broke into a service station. He helped steel $35.00, and a few car accessories. He had not wanted to break the law, but was goaded into it by his companions. Later he found out one of them had a long police record.

Johnny was arrested. He pleaded guilty, and threw himself on the mercy of the Court.

The Court put Johnny on probation for three years. During this time, he must strictly obey regulations made by the probation officer. Also, he must pay back the service station owner for money and goods stolen. But he is out of jail and free to live a fairly normal life.

If Johnny lives up to the terms of the probation, he can go back into Court in three years and ask that it dismiss the breaking and entering charge against him. In doing this, the Court will, in effect, be wiping Johnny's record clean. He can live a useful life without a criminal record.

But if Johnny breaks the probation rules, he can be picked up and called before the judge again and placed in custody of the law.

The wise use of this right of probation has helped to make good citizens of many young men and women who happened to make one serious mistake, and it is the wise, faithful and diligent work of the probation officer of the Courts in Florida which helps make this possible.

Love is oceans of emotions surrounded by expanses of expenses.

School Janitor Brings Law Suit Against City

Notification has been given the city commission of action to be brought against the city in Circuit Court by F. Malcolm Cunningham, attorney, on behalf of Michael Farrington.

In a letter read to the commission Feb. 22, Cunningham said that on Oct. 26, 1955, about 8:30 a.m., Farrington, while employed as janitor of the Lakeshore Elementary School, was arrested by City Investigator V. R. Clark.

The letter continues that Clark took Farrington to the latter's home in a police car and proceeded to search the home and personal property there. He was later taken to police headquarters to be fingerprinted, after which he was released.

The action by Clark was taken after Farrington reported that sometime between 11 p.m. Oct. 25 and 8:30 a.m. Oct. 26 someone had broken into the principal's office at the school.

The letter says, "The said Vern Clark searched the home of Michael Harrington without a search warrant and without any justifiable reason whatsoever, humiliating his entire family and trespassing on his property."

Cunningham's letter states that the action is being made against the city for damages suffered as a result of the trespassing and unwarranted searching of his home.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

By LEO JAMES, Reporter

The Future Farmers of America had a regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night, with President John Paul Jones presiding.

The first thing the chapter did was to have a discussion on when the F. F. A. Sweetheart Contest was to be held and who the sweetehart is to be. The decision will rest in the hands of the chapter until the next meeting.

The chapter elected President Paul Jones as captain of the soft ball team.

Much to the regret of the chapter, David Freeman resigned his position as chapter treasurer; however we feel that the new treasurer, Jet Morgan, is capabl eof doing a good job, and will make a good officer.

Been having fog in the morning this week. Brought to mind this one: "I've been in foggier places than this."

"Where was that?"

"I don't know . It was too foggy."

About turning on the lights tonight, C of C prexy R. W. Lanier said, "When we turn the lights on, we'll have all the bugs in the Everglades in here on us." Various officials will also attend.

There's been some bad comment about the appearance of the area around the post office and the Legion hall this week. It's time somebody started hitting the trash barrel.

Whoa! Last week's column carried a short about Chuck Godwin's desire for no publicity on his frosh squad. He told this column's scribe this week no member of the press talked to him. Now we know who to chew out about it. Thanx and 'cuse us, story's in this week.

The last straw: Activity has been in high gear with regard to the Harvest Queen Contest, but with the good comes the bad. Have you heard any of the catty remarks being made by contestants about other contestants? Professional jealousy, no doubt.

Band Parents Plan To Adopt Budget

There was a large attendance at the Band Parents Assn., held last week and after a brief discussion it was agreed to discard the idea of having any kind of a campaign dinner to raise funds for new uniforms.

A committee composed of H. Frank C. Anderson was ap- V. Draa, J. F. Wooten and pointed to make a comprehensive study of workings of the Band Parents Assn., from a financial standpoint of purchasing of band uniforms; also a study of finances of the association for the past five years. Following a study, recommendations will be made for the adoption of a budget for the year which will eliminate solicitation of funds except the football ads which have been the sole means of purchasing uniforms in the past.

All uniforms have been turned in by the band members and a committee to make a survey of the uniforms was appointed. They were Mrs. H. V. Draa, Mrs. J. R. Faulk, Mrs. J. A. Pike, Mrs. Doug Mathews and Mrs. Fred Cato, and Mrs. D. B. Mathis of Lake Harbor.

The members will at the next meeting, discuss adoption of plans suggested by Band leader John Munroe. The band leader will have nothing to do with purchasing of band uniforms and that the upkeep and maintenance and storage of uniforms be under supervision of a picked group of mothers.

The Band parents feel that the students in the band should assist in getting additional funds toward helping out with finances for the band. Following a discussion it was decided that a light bulb and candy sale in charge of Vernie Boots, with all band members participating, would be held. The city will be zoned and prize will be offered. This will be carried out in Lake Harbor and South Bay as well as Belle Glade. Final plans will be known at the next meeting of the Band Parents Assn., which will be held Tuesday evening, March 20, at the Band room.

All individuals and businesses who have not sent in thier checks for advertising in the 1954-1955 football programs are urged to do so.

HOMESTEAD LABOR

officials for low cost, government guaranteed loans in order that growers and farmers could borrow the money necessary to build suitable labor camps.

Through testimony given at the hearing it was learned that much progress had been made in Dade county in the last few years, but like Belle Glade, there was still a great more to be done.

For some idea of the massive problem at hand, N. M. Clay, State Employment Service representative, related that South Dade county has nearly 50,000 acres in crops with 18,000 acres in citrus and other fruit. Over 10,800 workers in the fields and 2,800 workers in packing houses were required each year.

With regard to housing Clay said two factors restricting more labor camps were high costs and zoning regulations.

Testimony given in Homestead indicated another problem was similar to Belle Glade's problem. Housing built for migrants is being taken by permanent residents.

One witness, August Burrichter, a local farmer there, said he was opposed to government aid with housing. He said he felt the responsibility for houses was the farmer's.

School officials also voiced their problems by saying that more classroom space was needed for the ever rising enrollment of migrant children. They said, however, that language barriers among Spanish speaking children were being overcome.

The committee meets Mar. 20 in Immokalee to hear the problems of Collier county.

SRD Traffic Teams Work Glades Area

The State Road Department's traffic survey teams began working in the Belle Glade-Pahokee area Feb. 29 and will complete their survey Mar. 12.

The surveys are 24 hour checks on origin and destination of traffic, state of license, and route exit or entrance of all vehicles passing a given point.

The purpose of the trip will also be asked.

The traffic survey is being carried out at the request of the county commission to aid in long range planning of arterial highways and will help establish priorities for improvements of existing routes.

This information will assist the county engineer to adopt right of way and design standards most constructive to county progress.

Notice To Registrants Of Local Board No. 148

RAILROAD OFFICIAL

tion? City Attorney Claude Jones wasn't certain.

Frohman was reminded of the pending lawsuits and the possibility of more. He was told that the railway wouldn't be following the people's wishes.

"You seem to think the railroad proceeds with plans regardless of the wishes of the community. We don't like grade crossings. We have over 800 grade corssings. In a ten year period there have been two small children killed by our railroad—not at a crossing. They were playing on the tracks! More grade crossings are being built than are being eliminated."

Who, he was asked, would make the final decision. "Our trustees and U. S. district judge has the final decision. There are no hearings for these meetings," he told them.

Frohman asked, "You're concerned with the safety of children. If an overhead crossing (for them) was put in, would that eliminate your concern?"

The crowd answered, "No."

"We've got to change it to conform with the permit, but you may be assured your facts will be in my report," he concluded.

The Herald asked Frohman, "What do you think the railroad will do?"

"Let's pretend you didn't ask that question," he said.

Junior Red Cross News

The Belle Glade chapter of th eJRC was represented at the local training center, at Marjorie Daniel's Girl Scout Camp, in Jupiter, last weekend by three of their council members. They were Leonard Higbee, Martha Faye Davidson, and Frances Sloan. The students were driven to Jupiter by Mrs. Paul Davidson, and returned by Mrs. Paul Higbee. Almost every school in Palm Beach County was represented, along with Stuart High School. There were approximately 40 students attending the center, with no cost whatsoever to the individuals. Junior directors at the camp were Bob James, Palm Beach High, and your reporter.

The meals were prepared by Mrs. Howard Hansen and her staff from the Palm Beach County Canteen. Friday night there was a "Get Acquainted" party, after which a film was shown on last year's training center. Also the history of Red Cross was given by a Junior. Then the students broke up into groups and elected committees to help run the center.

All day Saturday there were discussion groups where everyone exchanged ideas and learned new and better ways of working for JRC.

Mrs. Muriel Pringle, director of Palm Beach County JRC, gave the history of JRC, Saturday morning.

For recreation, the group went canoeing, boating, or swimming. The Jupiter High School Band played through dinner Saturday night, and remained for the rest of the evening. That night at assembly, a very good film on First Aid was shown, followed by some skits by Juniors. Later, there was a dance, which everyone seemed to enjoy very much.

Reverend Shivley, of the Congregational Church in Jupiter, conducted a sunrise service Sunday morning. A beautifully decorated banquet hall and tables was the scene of the afternoon meal, Sunday, which officially closed the center. Miss Shelia Patrick of Delray, was Mistress of Ceremonies and also did a pantomime for the talent show. Other talent was Leonard Higbee, who played a piano solo, and a vocal duet, "Youth United," by Edonna Borchardt, and Linda Howell, West Palm Beach.

Miss Mary Agnes Shriner, West Palm Beach, spoke on her trip to Canada last summer, to the International JRC Study Center.

Joe Prosser, executive officer of the Community Chest in West Palm Beach, entitled his talk, "What It Takes," in which he stated several qualities of leadership.

The camp was very successful and the local students have learned a lot about JRC.

STUDY IN PERFECTION—Renowned as one of skating's finest couples, Arnold Shoda and Kay Bervatius bring their matchless styles to the ice floor with the arrival of "Holiday on Ice of 1956" which starts a limited engagement at the Coral Gables Coliseum on March 8.

In the ice show business, as in other branches of the theatre, certain performers acquire "names" which set them apart from the average. Sometimes these reputations only travel within ice show circles, but often a skater will build "name" in the towns where he or she has appeared. Finally, there are those few who are recognized all over the world . . . as "stars."

One of the reasons that "Holiday on Ice," coming to Miami at the Coral Gables Coliseum starting Thursday, March 8, has earned the title, "All-Star Show" is that most of its performers have actually skated all over the world to international acclaim. This season, in addition to those skaters who are already favorites in Greater Miami, the big revue will introduce many new faces who will join the "All-Star" cast in the presentation of "Holiday on Ice of 1956."

Kay Servatius and Arnold Shoda, featured with the show last season, return this year with brand new routines set to dazzling backgrounds. Such favorites as Flip and Flop, Jeanne Cheadle and Phil Hiser also will return to the great ice stage when it arrives at the Coliseum.

Newcomers, however, are many this season. In the featured department, lovely Shirley Winter and thrilling adagio stars Jeanne Sook and Ted Roman make their bows to Holiday audiences and in the comedy field, European ice-comics Buddy and Baddy and many others make their Holiday debut. Jack Raffloer and Jerry Mapes bring shadow artistry to the ice and everyone has brand-new settings, costumes and music to help make the 11th anniversary of Holiday On Ice the biggest and best yet.

Stars - stars - stars. That's the picture shaping up for local patrons when Holiday comes calling, starting March 8. Twenty-eight acts and eight production numbers are being presented, including Ravel's "Bolero" and "Noah's Ark." Tickets are on sale at The Coliseum, 1500 Douglas Road, Coral Gables, in Miami at Turner's Sport Shop, 40 S. E. First Street and in Hollywood at Turner's Sport Shop, 2039 Hollywood Boulevard.

Farm Bureau District Meeting Dates Are Set

Winter Park (Special)—The 1956 spring district meeting of the Florida Farm Bureau will be held in DeFuniak Springs, March 5; Tallahassee, March 6; Gainesville, March 7; Bartow, March 8, and in Clewiston, March 9. The announcement was made today from state headquarters here.

T. K. McClane, Jr., executive vice-president of the state-wide farm organization, said, "The keynote of these meetings will be legislative action and are of the utmost importance to county farm leaders." He said that the places and times of each session will be announced next week.

A successful life depends on a working inventory of ideas.

The best way to relieve the monotony of a job is to think of a way of improving it.

Shell Emporium Is Tourist Attraction

The Shell Emporium on U. S. 27 in South Bay has just rounded out one year in its present location. The store, owned by Cecil C. Crant, carries a multitude of practically every type of shell known to exist.

Grant told The Herald that the shells come from every region of the world to fascinate the occupants of more than 500 cars which stop their weekly.

The people of South Bay are pleased with the business, as it is rapidly becoming South Bay's biggest tourist attraction.

In addition to the on-the-spot sales, Crant said many items are shipped out of the state.

Crant and his wife, Adeline, have three small girls. He and his wife operate the business which is growing by leaps and bounds. He estimated that summer business would soon be as big as winter business in the shell industry.

A glance at the shop would give one an idea of the many varieties of shells which Crant says are so numerous that new varieties are being found all the time.

In addition to live sea horses (about 1½ inches long) there is a small preserved octopus. Other oddities include melon shells from the Fiji Islands, cameos from Italy, sun and moon shells from Japan, slim stronbus from the Sulu Sea, pelican's feet shells from Ceylon.

Others include spider shells from Zanzibar, ram's murex from Africa, black murex from Mexico, and kings', queens' and princess' shells from the Bahamas. There are also cypress knees and coral from the Philippines and this state.

Crant said his brother got him into the business. He has worked at the shell industry in Bonita Springs and Riviera Beach among other cities for nearly ten years.

He mentioned a little known fact, too. At one time all shells had tiny living creatures in them—mollusks—one-half fish, one-half animal-like creatures which crept around in the seas.

Crant called to mind the fact that Florida has a state shell, a fact which few people know, called the angel wing.

Crant plans to advertise the business widely with signs going up in the future on major arteries of travel through South Bay. Signs will be placed from South Bay to Miami in groups. More posters will be seen up to 100 miles north on U. S. 27.

Soon after that signs will appear on SR 80 toward West Palm Beach and on U. S. 441 north of Belle Glade.

Crant mentioned that local people as well as tourists were discovering the value of the Shell Emporium for practical gifts, too.

AUTOMOBILES from all over the U. S., Canada and Hawaii are among the many visitors to Cecil Crant's Shell Emporium in South Bay. In just one short year the Shell Emporium has become South Bay's biggest tourist attraction. Many shell oddities from all over the world can be found on display here.

New Wage Law In Effect March 1

Many workers in Belle Glade and surrouding area will benefit from provisions of the 1939 wage and hour law as amended by the last session of Congress.

This information was released last week by C. Z. Denicki, field representattive of the Wage and Hour Division in Miami. Denicki said March 1 is the deadline, after wihch the minimum wage will be one dollar.

"I know of no other city which will be more affected than Belle Glade," Denicki said.

He explained that packing house workers—except agricultural field hands—would be included under the new provision. The law applies to all companies and businesses ngaged in interstate commerce.

Drug stores and certain retail stores aren't affected by the new law which excludes barber shops, hotels and service establishments such as dry cleaners.

Denicki explained that the new wage standard didn't mean costs would go up for business men.

"Many are already receiving wages between 75c and $1 and others are receiving $1 or more. Labor cost won't rise more than one-third in most cases," he said.

Any further information or clarification can be obtained by writing to the Wage and Hour Division, U. S. Post Office Building, Jacksonville, Fla.

Lebanese Official Is Guest In Glades

A government official from the Republic of Lebanon visited the Glades Feb. 20 as the guest of the State Employment Service office here, according to Lee L. Smith, manager.

Ahmad Shuman and his interpreter, Aballah Jubram, came from the Miami FSES office, with Harry Tyson of that office to inspect fields here, in South Bay and Pahokee.

Shuman is president of the Workers and Employees Union of Vegetables and Fruits in Lebanon as well as secretary-treasurer of the Lebanese League of of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions of the Middle East. He came to this country under the Point Four program of the Department of State.

Jubram, writer and announcer for the Voice of America, was on loan from the Department of State to accompany Shuman and act as his interpreter.

The group led by Smith inspected celery machines and planting machines for celery and other leaf crops on the Evans and Rogers land in South Bay. The visitors also saw bean and corn acreage near Pahokee.

Purpose of the visitation is to learn more about agriculture here which can be applied to existing methods in Lebanon.

The guests were appalled, Smith said, by the wasted produce here (i. e., the throwing away of substandard produts). Shuman said even poor quality products would be marketed in Lebanon because they need all they are able to grow in that country.

The Republic of Lebanon is slightly larger than 3,000 sq. mi. of which over one-sixth of the land is used for agriculture. Crops grown there include beans, potatoes, melons, apples, bananas, figs, olives and grapes. wheat, barley and tobacco.

Junior GC Shown Potting Of Plants

Mrs. Lonnie Warren, chairman of the Junior Garden Club, demonstrated potting of plants to the group last Tuesday afternoon at the school. The club, which is composed of students of the sixth grade, is sponsored by the Belle Glade Garden Club. Mrs. Warren also presented each member with rooted peperonias and Rosette Sansievera plants.

Announcement was made that the next meeting, March 13, at 1:45 p.m., Mrs. R. V. McCrary of West Palm Beach, will talk on "Birds." Present were President Corky McKee and 18 members
